TWENTY NINTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

'God will give justice to his elect, who cry to him.'

TWENTY NINTH SUNDAY OF ORDINARY TIME

The First Reading is taken from the book of Exodus 17:8-13. In this reading the Israelites are attacked in their journey from Egypt to Canaan by the Amalek tribe, who would have annihilated them were it not for Moses's intercession with God.

The Second Reading is from the Second Letter of Paul to Timothy 3:14, 4:2. St Paul continues to exhort and encourage his disciple Timothy to be loyal to the Christian faith which he had received from the most trustworthy of sources, St Paul himself, and the sacred Scripture of the Old Testament. Timothy must continue to preach this "word", this faith, no matter what the obstacles may be.

The Gospel is from St Luke 18:1-8. There are many devout Christians who are deeply puzzled by what they think is God's indifference to their fervent pleas for spiritual favours, which to them appear essential in their journey heavenwards. These people would readily admit that God has good reasons for not granting temporal favours—they might not be for their eternal good. Why refuse or delay granting their spiritual needs? The man or woman who has dedicated his or her life exclusively to the service of God still suffers from human weaknesses. He or she is attracted to worldly things, finds humility and obedience very difficult, suffers from dryness in prayer or, worse still, is scrupulous to a degree that makes the religious life almost unbearable. Such people could work so much better for God and for their neighbour if only God would remove these weaknesses, which, in fact, he could so easily do.

Or again, why should whole nations of devout Christians suffer persecution from atheistic tyrants? See their children brought up deprived of the right to practise their faith, or, worse still, taught to despise it? Surely God should answer the prayers of these good people and the fervent prayers of millions of their fellow Christians on their behalf...

These and many similar questionings arise in our minds because our limited, human intellects can see but one small section of the immense tapestry which God is weaving for the human race. We would all like immediate results in our own tiny corner of that tapestry while the all-wise God is occupied with the whole picture. He is not forgetting us either. If He delays in answering our urgent appeals, we can be certain that the reason is not that He wants to punish us but rather to help us. There are many saints in heaven who would perhaps never have become saints if God had not allowed them to struggle on longer than they would have wished against trials and difficulties—spiritual as well as physical.

Our divine Lord teaches us, in this parable, the need for perseverance in prayer. This perseverance develops our trust and confidence in God. It helps us to become humble and to realise how weak we are when left to ourselves. It keeps us close to God, as we learn how dependent we are on His generosity. If we only would realise that God is perhaps never closer to us than when we think He is forgetting us! The trials of life, spiritual or temporal, which He allows us to suffer are not obstacles to our spiritual progress but rather stepping-stones without which we could not cross the rivers of life at all.

God wants every one of us in heaven, but just as no two men on earth have the same identical features, so also no two men on earth have the same road to lead them to heaven. God is supervising the journey of each one of us. He is ever there to help if the obstacle on one's road is insurmountable. We may, and we must, keep asking God for the spiritual and temporal favours which we feel we need. We must never grow despondent or feel that God has lost interest in us if He delays in granting these favours. When we shall look back on our earthly journey from the happy vantage point of heaven, we shall see how effectively and how lovingly God regulated our journey. When He did not grant a certain favour, it was because He had a much more important one to give us, one we did not ask for or even realise we needed.

"Ask and you shall receive," not perhaps what you wanted, but what God knew you needed. "Seek and you shall find," not the easy way which you thought you deserved, but the harder way which would make you more deserving of heaven. "Knock and it shall be opened unto you," not the door you were standing at, which would have delayed or endangered your progress, but the door further down the street where refreshment and new courage to continue on your upward climb were awaiting you.

Eucharistic Adoration at Home

We are pleased to confirm the arrangements for Eucharistic Adoration in parish homes. During the month of November we will offer parishioners the opportunity to host the Blessed Sacrament in their homes for a one-hour period where friends and neighbours can pop in for a moment of silent prayer and reflection.

An Extraordinary Minister will set up a simple altar in the home and will be present throughout the one-hour period of exposition. Those attending can come in and out in much the same way they currently would with adoration in the Church. There will be no social aspect (e.g. tea/coffee) associated with home adoration. Our aim is simply to invite people in for a period of quiet prayer in the presence of the Blessed Sacrament.

If you would like to put your name forward to host a home Eucharistic Adoration session, please see the sign-up sheets in the Sacristy. We have divided the parish into four very broad areas with slots designated to each area. We will have two home adoration sessions each weekday during November – one at 11am and another at 7pm. Please enter your name, address and contact number in the time slot that best suits your needs.

The individual hosting a home-based Eucharistic Adoration session will be responsible for inviting people to attend. Once our sign-up sheets have been fully populated, hosts will receive a letter from Fr. Kane explaining what they need to do and providing a general letter that can be used to invite parishioners to the session they will be hosting. This is a great opportunity to reach out to friends, neighbours or family members who may have lapsed from their faith with an invitation to pray and reflect in the presence of the Blessed Sacrament.

We hope you can join us in supporting this exciting new initiative.

Briefing meeting for Extraordinary Ministers

In order to support Eucharistic Adoration in parish homes, a briefing meeting for Extraordinary Ministers has been arranged for Monday, 20 October 2025, at 7pm in the Church. If you are currently an Extraordinary Minister participating in St. Augustine's parish duties, we invite you to come along to this short meeting where you will hear more about how you can support Eucharistic Adoration in our parish community.

SACRAMENT OF THE SICK / HOSPITAL VISITATIONS

Those who require the Sacrament of the Sick at home should contact the Chapel House to arrange for a visit from Fr. Kane. This should ordinarily be arranged prior to any prolonged hospital visit. In cases of emergency where you or a family member require the pastoral assistance of the Chaplain, please request this from the hospital nursing staff. The family should make this request clearly to nursing staff.

CATHOLIC TEACHER APPROVAL

Those wishing to teach in the Catholic sector are reminded that it is first necessary to obtain approval from your parish priest to show that you accept and live the Catholic faith. For those living within the parish of St. Augustine's this means approval from Fr. Kane. This applies to those about to enrol for the teaching course, those starting out as probationary teachers, and all those applying for new posts (promoted or otherwise) within a Catholic school. Please contact Fr. Kane if you have any questions about this process.
